

What is Happening?

Photographs were taken during the time that you are studying. They are firsthand accounts of a time period. By analyzing (taking a closer look) photographs, historians can learn more about what was going on during that time period.

Look at the photograph. Think about what is happening. Who are the people in the image? What are they doing? Where was this photo taken? When do you think this photo took place?

- 1) Write a caption for the photograph above. A caption is the sentence or phrase that describes what is in a picture and sometimes gives information about where the picture came from.

Caption:

2. Think about what might have happened before this photograph was taken. And, what happened after the photograph was taken.

Draw an the before and after scenes in the boxes below.

Before

After

3. What do you think? Write a brief description of what you think, the couple on the Camels are thinking? Feeling? Do you think they are enjoying riding on the Camel?

What do you think?

4. You turn. Find a photograph in your house that was taken before you were born? Describe what is happening. Who is in the photograph? When was it taken? Where was it taken? What is going on in the photo? And, why was the photo taken?

Write about the photograph here: